Pitt-Greensburg Honors Program

Life as an Honors Student

The Honors Program at Pitt-Greensburg was established to enrich students' college experience and to provide special recognition for their academic talents.

Honors students maintain their eligibility by earning Honors Credits, achieved by taking honors courses or engaging in active learning projects, such as planning events in coordination with the Academic Village.

Special Opportunities and Recognition

Honors Students who maintain the designated requirements of the program:

- Receive the Pitt-Greensburg Honors Graduate Recognition at graduation.
- Enjoy close mentoring relationships with Honors Program faculty throughout their time at Pitt-Greensburg.
- Are given opportunities for travel to off campus academic events.
- Participate in interdisciplinary courses developed for honors students.
- Will form long-lasting connections with fellow honors students and faculty.

* Eligibility and Requirements

Students may apply to participate in the program at any point during their academic career.

- Current Pitt-Greensburg students must hold a minimum 3.5 cumulative GPA.
- Incoming Pitt-Greensburg students must hold a minimum 3.8 high school cumulative GPA to be considered.
- Honors Students are required to enroll in at least one Honors section per academic year or participate in an active learning project.
- Honors graduates will need to complete at least 2 years in the program, maintain a 3.5 overall GPA and must have a 3.5 GPA by the time of graduation.
